Stream Fishing Seminars

We are also setting up a series of stream fishing seminars at Bass Pro Shops for 2011. These classes will cover gear basics, rigging, natural bait collection and use, reading the water, and important tips on stealth. Jim Matthews, one of Southern California's last newspaper outdoor writers, will explain the differences between fishing for wild or native trout and planted hatchery fish. Cost for these seminars will only be $20 per person, with all members of the family in the same household included in that price. Kids are especially welcome. Each person/family will receive at least $20 in stream fishing gear.

For more information on dates of these classes, call Matthews' office at 909-887-3444 or go to the web site at: www.OutdoorNewsService.com

Since we started Western Birds in October, 1996 we have given directions and coordinates to over 600 different hunting locations throughout the southern half of California — from guzzlers to desert springs to top waterfowl blind sites to the best place to shoot a ptarmigan in California's Eastern Sierra Nevada. We have covered quail, chukar and doves a lot, but also offbeat things — like good places to hunt snipe.

Three special issues we've published have included the coordinates for all 130 guzzlers in the vast Mojave National Preserve, 38 guzzlers in the West Mojave, and 65 guzzlers in the Red Mountain Region. The last two issues also rate each guzzler for chukar use.

Does this sound like something you need for your hunting? At today's gasoline prices, a subscription is about two tanks' full, which you'll save because we're doing the scouting for you.
